

Upper Mustang Trek

Trip Overview

Upper Mustang is a remote place untouched by any kind of modernization and it is regarded as the forbidden kingdom this part of the country is beyond any control and influence of the administrative center of the nation. If you love adventure and want to see the centuries-back lifestyle now in the present time then Upper Mustang Trek is a suitable journey for you and it is a less traveled part of Nepal. Permits to trek in Upper Mustang are quite expensive and permits are issued only to agency-organized groups. It offers a spectacular trekking experience in the remote trans-Himalayan mountain region of Nepal. As the region is dry and barren, it is too windy normally in the afternoon, and the trek in this region is beyond moderate. In many ways, a trek into Upper Mustang is similar to trekking in Tibet, as geographically it is a part of the Tibetan plateau. The region is isolated from the outside world and has contributed to a highly preserved Tibetan culture and nature. The most convenient way to get to Upper Mustang is to fly from Pokhara to Jomsom and start the trek from there.
